

MOTIVATION THROUGH INNOVATION™

Strident - a name you can trust for performance and reliability

A careful selection of only the highest quality raw materials, consistent quality control throughout the entire production process and painstaking attention to every detail gives the Strident range its unique properties that can be trusted and relied upon in many vital applications.

Valve Regulated

The highest specification of valve equipment is used in the Strident brand to allow the required level of venting both in use and more importantly during the charge process.

Quality Assured

Every Strident battery undergoes stringent quality control both at manufacture stage and pre-despatch ensuring you receive only the most reliable source of power. Our highly automated central UK warehousing facilities operates a strict FIFO stock rotation system resulting in all goods despatched being in peak condition every time.

Plate Separator

A critical component to high performing batteries. Strident use superior glass matting to ensure consistent plate contact resulting in increased battery efficiency and longevity.

Plate Composition

Purified lead specifically blended with critical conductive properties gives the Strident range superior performance during both cyclic and standby applications.

With over 15 years experience in the mobility industry, Ivanhoe are perfectly placed to offer the widest range of high quality mobility consumables including mobility tyres, batteries and chargers.
